Sponsorship and Exhibitor Opportunities

The New York State Public Health Association (NYSPHA) and the New York State Association of County Health Officials (NYSACHO) invite you to participate in this upcoming workshop that will draw more than one hundred public health and wellness professionals, advocates and students from all parts of New York State and surrounding areas.

Our sponsorship and exhibitor opportunities will present you with a unique opportunity to position your organization, program, product, service or brand in front of a broad spectrum of stakeholders with a vested interest in an adult-use cannabis program, its implications and impact on public health, including policy, regulatory and governance aspects related to legalization.
